

AISI Inquiry for 21st Century Learning Project presents...

THE BEST CONFERENCE EVER

St. James is host to over 200 students from 20 schools in our district our coming together this Saturday, November 19th, to explore science along with technology, environment, engineering and math. This "all boys" conference is the first of it's kind in our district and is intended to encourage boys to explore their interest and passion in these inter-disciplinary subjects.

The Northern Lights Wildlife Wolf with their live wolf, "Aspen" is our morning keynote, and our concurrent session presenters represent a number of community groups including: Grant Mac Ewan, ESON (Edmonton Science Outreach Network), U of A Let's Talk Science, U of A Department of Mechanical Engineering (Autonomous Robotics Project), Scouts Canada, U of A (Scanning Electron Microscope Presenter), Archbishop Macdonald High school (Science Teachers and the Science Club), and the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers.
