

September 19, 2011

Dear Parents,

This Wednesday afternoon our students will have the privilege of having a science presentation by Dr. Margaret Ann Armour and "Let's Talk Science". Dr. Armour is a widely recognized chemist known for her dedication to science education particularly with girls. She will be kicking off our afternoon of science in the gym at 1:30 – All parents are invited to come as this promises to be an exciting presentation by Dr. Armour. Following this presentation, Let's Talk Science will be leading interactive science presentations in each of the classrooms. This will be a stimulating afternoon for our students and we are fortunate to have them as our guests. As part of this afternoon, Let's Talk Science will be filming the classroom presentations for their own promotional use. Please sign the form on the reverse side stating that you give you child permission to be included in this filming.

We hope to see you on Wednesday afternoon!

Sandy, Kris & Tom and the St. James Staff