Dear Mr. Kaup:

Thank you for your donation to the Sign of Hope. We are grateful for your generosity and willingness to support the work of Catholic Social Services as we strive to care for and bring hope to people in need with humility, compassion and respect.

Be assured that the support of Sir John Thompson School, it's staff and students enables us to provide help and create hope for thousands of people throughout central Alberta who are courageously working through issues including domestic violence, homelessness, personal crisis, and family strife, elder abuse, addiction and sexual exploitation. Here is Samantha's story:

Samantha (name changed for privacy) was living on the street with her two children. "Not knowing your future is really scary," she says. Samantha moved into Catholic Social Services' Valeda House. The support she's received is, "amazing," she says. "They've bettered my life by a million percent. I never realized how important my children were until I lost them. Now I'm grateful for every moment I have with them. And being here at Valeda House has helped me get through tough times."

Thank you for your support, which enables us to care for and bring hope to people in need.

Blessings always,

Dr. Troy A. Davies
